Mr. Gladstone was in excellent voice, and spoke with vigor and clearness. The point of his speech which seemed to attract most attention was that in which he declared his intentions in the event of the House of Lords rejecting his Home Rule bill. There was immense enthusiasm when he averred that it would be impossible for the Liberal Government to regard such rejection as ending its duties toward the people. Mr. Gladstone's followers are greatly pleased with the speech. Mr. Balfour did not speak in his best form. The conditions were unfavorable, but hardly excused such an effort on the part of a man who has so often shown high ability as a debater. Among the late arrivals at Village Bay are Mrs. Armstrong and the Misses Armstrong, Mrs. Hobson and Mrs. Giles, of Westminster.

Mr. T. Collinson, our storekeeper here, whilst away at Victoria, last week, had some thirty gallons of dog fish oil stolen from his warehouse, adjoining his premises, and no trace of its whereabouts can be had. Mr. A. Kempe, of Dog Fish Bay, also missed some twenty gallons, which were in tins placed outside his tent, but in this case the tins were refilled with salt water, in order to escape detection. The joke was "too thin," and Messrs, Kempe and Collinson are waiting to entertain their "visitor" when he again makes his appearance, and administer to him his "deserts."

My Pear Archaeacon and Mr. Baynes Recely.

I beg to inform you that on Saturday, August the 6th, I forwarded to the Archbishop of Canterbury, my format resignation of the See and Diocese of British Columbia.

The date on which the resignation is to take effect is November 15, 1892.

I have asked his Grace to accept it in consideration of a mini-try in the Church of England of over 5! years, and of my increasing sense of infirmity.

I enclose copies of the instrument of resignations.

six months from the date of such summons, for the purpose of electing a successor to the See."

"Inasmuch as the amendment of the Canon in ISSS, as to the formal notice, was for the purpose of shortening the interval between the actual vacancy and appointment of a successor, it would appear desirable for the special Synod to meet within three months, rather than six, after the issue of the summons."

The special meeting of the Synod, it is expected, will be held on November 22, one work after the vacancy of the See, and the departure of Dr. Hills for the Old Country.

The Synod Magazine, in its next issue, will make the following editorial reference to the departure of the Bishop, the sentiments of which will be cordially endorsed by all members of the church in British Columbia:

"It is with feelings of sorrow too deep for words to express, that we have to announce the resignation and near departure for England, of our Bi-hop. For 33 years, or for a generation, he has labored in the broad expanse of British Columbia, meeting with difficulties which were unique in the annals of colonial missionary work. To build up the old Church of England here on the Pacific Coast, amid prejudices and misbelief, aye, even active hostilities, itself was a horculean task requiring herculean strength and determination. But to build up that odifice without a plan—without having sacrificed a single principle, in the midst of a huge continent, which for years was left ignorant of the true Catholic Faith, is an accomplishment which only a man strong in the Holy Spirit of God could have carried out.

"Or. Hills joined one clergyman here, when he arrived thirty-three years ago; he interest and the stranger and proposed as to its working, so that the will be ready for service at all times.

the Holy Spirit of God could have carried out.

"Or. Hills joined one clergyman here, when he arrived thirty-three years ago; he will leave twenty-five toiling in Christ's vineyard; he found no church, he leaves the Island overspread with them; he came amongst a few thousand colonists settled in a huge colony, he leaves 100,000 prosperous people, presided over by three Bishops and upwards of 50 clergy. Fifty-two years in the ministry, and thirty-three here, have carned for the Bishop the rest he so much have had the privilege of working under him for many years, will joyfully wish him many years of case and happiness, they feet that the link of connection is hard to break and will be difficult to replace."

DR. WATT DISCUSSED.

TO THE EDITOR:—Considerable interest is manifested in the forthcoming election in the Cariboo District. Two candidates are before the electors, Dr. Watt, of Victoria, and Mr. Morrison of the 134 Mile House. As it is the desire of the electors of Cariboo to return to the Legislative Assembly, a staunch supporter of the late and present administrations, and at the same time, one whose interests are identical with those of all portions of the district, it is well to look into the claims of the respective candidates for the cleatins of the respective candidates for the leatins of the respective candidates for the leatins of the respective candidates for the leatins of the respective candidates for the cleatins of the respective candidates for the cleating of t administrations, and at the same time, one large number of passengers for one bound whose interests are identical with those of cities, besides a small party for Alaska. Of all portions of the district, it is well to look into the claims of the respective candidates for the position.

whose interess are interest with a close of all portions of the district, it is well to look into the claims of the respective candidates for the position.

As stated by your correspondent "N" in your issue of 29th July, the people of the mining section of Cariboo, acknowledge the right of the agricultural portion of the district to a representative, and will unite with the people of the lower section in supporting a candidate brought out by them. Mr. Morrison has been the choice of the lower section, and, for the reasons mentioned in your correspondent's letter referred to, will best represent the various interests of the district, and from his past record, can be relied upon to give the Government his support. Can we say as much for Dr. Watt? That gentleman, who has for the past year or more taken up his residence in Victoria, and opened an office for the practice of his protession there, as soon as the news of the death of Hon. John Robson arrived, an mounced himself as a candidate for the vacant seat. He published an address, in which he bases his claim for the suffrages of the Cariboo electors, on the ground that he is about to become again a resident of Cariboo, and that he is a supporter of Mr. Davie's administration, and had invariably been a supporter of the previous Smithe-Davie-Robson administration, which he possibilities of his becoming a resident. ### MAYOR BEAVEN'S LETTER.

Mayor Beaven's letter to the Attorney General, which we published in yesterday's issue, is characteristic of the man. The Attorney General wrote the Mayor of Vic-Beaven's letter, that it is intended for political effect. The letter should properly have been addressed to the electors of Victoria.

Like most political manifestos from the same source, Mr. Beaven's letter is full of inaccurate and misleading statements and inuendos, which are calculated to produce false impressions.

In the second sentence of his letter, he says: "I have no doubt inconvenience will arise in consequence of the interference with municipal affairs of irresponsible per sons." The Mayor, of course, wishes the readers of his letter to believe that irrespon sible persons have interfered in municipal But such has not been the There has been no irresponsible or unauthorized or unwarranted official who has taken part in the stamping out of the smallpox is responsible to either the municipality or the Government for the way in which he performs his duties. As we showed, yesterday, the law in certain interference with municipal affairs. Every contingencies authorises the Government to interfere in the health affairs of municipalities. The officials appointed by the Govern ment in those contingencies cannot, therefore, with any approach to truth, be said to be "irresponsible."

Mr. Beaven asserts that "the Board of Health and the Finance Committee are quite competent to attend to their duties." The law of the land assumes that when there is reason to apprehend the invasion of any contagious disease the Local Board of Health are not competent to cope with It is then the duty of the Board of Health to place itself under the direction of the Health Officer appointed by the Government, and to carry out the Orders-in-Council. Has the Local Board of Health attended to its duty in this respect Is it not because it refuses to co-operate with the Health Officer that the difficulty between it and the Governmenth as arisen We wonder if the Mayor realizes that the attitude which he assumes with respect to the health affairs of the city is opposed to law and to constituted authority. The Government and the officials of the Governnt have not gone a hairsbreadth beyone the community, places in their hands, but the Mayor, and those whom he influences, the powers which the law, for the safety of by placing difficulties in the way of the Health Officer, and by stigmatizing those who are acting under his authority as irresponsible and unauthorized, are placing themselves in antagonism to the law, and that, too, in a matter of the utmost importance to the city. The flourish about the punctuality with which the Corporation pays the workmen whom it employes was certuinly not intended for the Attorney General's edification. But the boast is an empty one, and can have but little effect in the face of the fact that the Corporation has refused to pay workingmen whom one of its officials has employed; It is poor comfort to these men to be told that they shall be paid "at the earliest moment the statute permits." The visitation has lasted long enough to permit the cor poration to make arrangements to pay all employed in the health department without an hour's delay. There are exigencies in which the City Council must take upon themselves the responsibility of acting independently of the statute, and most people will say that an outbreak of the smallpox is one of these contingencies. The mayor's letter is an exceedingly weak production, even when it is looked upon as an appeal to the electors. It does not con tain even the semblance of an excuse for the course which the mayor is pursuing in placing himself in opposition to the Provincial authorities, who are in a legal and consciulations. stitutional manner working with might and main, and working, too, most successfully, to stamp out the smallpox, the presence of which in the city has done it such an imnense amount of harm.

INFORMATION WANTED.

No reason has been given for raising the a change as this was made, the Finance Committee were bound to show to the Council and the ratepayers that the fifty thousand dollars first put is the Democrats condemned the Republicans. the fifty thousand dollars has put in the by-law was not sufficient. But, no figures have been given, not even, as far as we know, has an approximate state for their extravagance, and they no doubt deserved the condemnation. The billion dollar Congress was the title they gave the ee, have been made about the extravagance of the officials in charge of the suspect station, but it is very clear that they have been made at random and with the object of bringing the Health officer and those whom out the expense that has been already incurred. He knows what was spent on the Albert Head station. Mr. Davies will, no doubt, be happy to inform him what the expenses of the Jubilee Hospital station have been up to date, and we think it to be kept up, and their land to be kept up. tries very hard, he will be able to find out what that horrible bugbear of his, the suspect station, has cost the city. As the end of the outbreak is now happily within a measurable distance, it will not be difficult to estimate what the probable expenses will be. Of course this estimate cannot be mathematically correct, but the worthy chairman, if he sets about the work in earnest, will be able to come within a nundred dollars or so of the amount.

toria a purely business letter; the Mayor's who are to vote upon the by-law to let them We think that it is due to the ratepayers reply is a political manifesto. It is evident know that the City Council is asking for from the first line to the last of Mayor what will be reasonably near the amount required.

It will be recollected that provision is nade for the ordinary expenses of the health department in another by law, in which $15,000 is allowed for the "Board of Health-all purposes." This is a moderate sum, but we presume that it is sufficient. We mention this because it might be the by-laws, that the $75,000 was all that the Council wants to raise for health purposes. In point of fact they propose to raise $90,000 for current health expenditure. When it is known approximately what the expenses connected with the smallpox visitation are, the ratenavers will be in a small control of the small point of the small price and in some cases lower as we do not want to mix this season's stock with our new Fall Goods soon to arrive. Trimmed Millinery, Untrimmed Straws, Mantles. Henry Young & Co. thought by the reader, who had not seen tation are, the ratepayers will be in a position to judge of the reasonableness of the Council's requirement. We may say here that we have good reason to believe that the cost of stamping out the smallpox in the city will be, in proportion to the number of cases, very much less than it will be in Vancouver and other places in which there have been outbreaks, and that consequently it will be found that there has been no ground for the accusations of extravagance which have been preferred against those who are engaged in freeing this city from the dread disease.

CONGRESS CLOSED.

The session of Congress which closed on the 5th inst, was not a very eventful one. It might be supposed that when the Demo-crats had a majority of 140 in the House of Representatives, the policy of the United States would be democratic. But it was nothing of the kind. A Republican President and a Republican Senate more than counteracted the efforts of the Democratic House to give the policy of the Administra-tion a Democratic tinge. In spite of the overwhelming majority of Democrats in what would be called here the popular branch of the Legislature, the policy of the Government of the United States continued to be Republican. The defeat at the polls did not affect the action of the Government in any perceptible degree.

It will be very different, indeed, in Great Britain. There, in a House of 670 members, the Gladstonian party has a majority small majority, attempt to direct the affairs of the nation after the adverse vote, which shows them to be in a minority. Lord Salisbury's resignation will be in the hands of the Queen in a very few hours after the will of the House is known, and a new Premier will assume the reins of power. In this the Government of Great Britain is more democratic than the Government of the United States. As soon as the will of the people is expressed in a constitutional manner, it is respected by the Government of the country, but, as we have seen, the Government of the United States carries out its policy unchanged for known, and a new Premier will assume the two years after it has been condemned by

The truth, however, appears to be that the Democratic House of Representatives were only half-hearted in their endeavors to carry out their own policy. Although the Democrats profess to be in favor of tariff reform, their attempts to alter th trade policy of the Republic were very feeble indeed. They were, as described by amount asked for by the City Council for health purposes from lifty thousand to seventy-five thousand dollars. Before such a change as this way made it the result indeed. In their own party, of the "popgun" order. Most of the tariff bills were killed in their passage through the Legislature.

Republican Congress which the Democrats displaced. Well, the Republicans spent bringing the Health officer and those whom he has employed into disrepute. But the ratepayers naturally require something more definite than this.

From what we have heard, we believe that the fifty thousand dollars first asked for, will be more then sufficient to meet all demands arising out of the outbreak of the smallnoy. It would not be difficult for the smallnoy. smallpox. It would not be difficult for the Chairman of the Finance Committee to find xpenses of the Jubilee Hospital station are been up to date, and we think if he ties very hard, he will be able to find bounty and their subsidy legislation could not be repealed.

The virtues of the Democratic House, ac cording to the dictum of one of its apologists were chiefly negative. He says "It did not increase taxes; it passed no subsidy bill it passed no bills to overthrow elections in the States; it vacated no Republican seats for Democratic contestants, except in one case, and that upon a practically unanimous committee report; it did not rob the minor ity of their rights nor serviley surrende its own rights into the hands of its Speake. and its Committee on Rules."

Board of Trade.

Later on the whole of this will be published, but it is thought better not to make it public until some decision is reached with a will probable he nort work. which will probably be next week.

Charged With Forgery.

It is thought that the man, Staite, who was fined by Magistrate Macrae for using abusive language toward the Ross Bay station guards and nurses, will pay the $20 fine rather than undergo the 30 days imprisonment imposed in default thereof. In any event, the moment he is clear of the present difficulty, a charge will be laid against him by the Chief of Police of forging a $10 check.

The case of Poole v. the Corporation, an appeal from a conviction of Police Magistrate Macrae, for violation of a city by-law, was heard yesterday morning before Sir trate Macrae, for violation of a city by-law, was heard yesterday morning before Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, Chief Justice. Mr. Gregory, of Belyea & Gregory, appeared for the appellant. The conviction was sustained. The appeal in the Heath case was also heard, and judgment reserved. In the latter case it was argued that the sale of 500 cards was "wholesale," and not "retail" business.

Thinking it best to take a look at the work before settling for it, Lomox placed the can on the verandah and went on a tour of inspection. When he returned he found a large hole in the atmosphere erstwhile occupied by one Ah Shick, and alongside was a smaller one made by the departure of the can. . . A period of five days is supposed to have elapsed. Lomox again meets the Celestial, and a one mile straightaway sprinting match takes place. An Unwilling Visitor.

Rev. J. C. Douglas, formerly of Olympia, who came here several weeks ago from Washington, to fill the pulpit of one of the Baptist Churches, is detained here under the Port Townsend smallpox regulations. He is, it is said, not unlikely to disappoint a congregation to which he was to preach next Sunday, and all because the Puget Sound Board of Health are no respecters of "parsons," or as has been irreverently suggested, because they fear not God, neither regard man.

The managing committee of the W. C. T. U. Refuge Home meet, to-day, for the purpose of considering the advisability of introducing an assistant matron into the Home. This is owing to the arrival in Victoria of Mrs. Morrow, who comes from Liverpool, England, where she has been laboring long and successfully in this and similar works. The lady will, in event of not becoming connected with the Home, probably engage in some active local Christian work.

Another Effort.

It is quite probable that another effort will be made to raise the San Pedro. The information comes from New York that the Merritt Wrecking company, a few days ago, sent a company of wreckers from Stapleton, S. I., to San Francisco, under the charge of onte purpose of inspecting the wreck of the San Fedro, with a view of making another attempt to get her off the rocks. Those who have followed Capt. Whitelaw in his gallant efforts to reclaim the vessel will watch the new move with much in will watch the new move with much in-terest. The general opinion seems to be that never again will the "San Pedro go steaming away."

The Anacottes American gives the following account of the death of Alexander Brown, a logger, formerly residing in this city, and at one time in the employ of Mikk King: A sad accident occurred in McDonlad's logging camp, six miles east of Woolley, on Tuesday evening. In company with other gentlemen, a young man mamed Alexander Brown was engaged in loading logs on the cars, when his foot slip and he fell between the landing and the car, and was crushed to death. The deceased was a member of the Knights of Pythias, and the funeral took place at Lyman yesterday, under the au pices of that order. Every logging camp in the neighborhood closed down, and the attendance at the funeral was large.

CALIFORNIA STAGE ROBBERS

Prospects of Their Capture Smaller and Beautifully Less-The Hunt Still Proceeding.

VISALIA, Cal., August 9 .- Late reports have it that Supervisor Ellis undoubtedly Chris Evans and Joh night about 11 o'clock, at the entrance to Stokes valley, 17 miles northwest of Visalia Mr. Ellis had started for his home, in that part of the country, late in the evening, driving a horse and cart and leading another horse. Near the valley he passed two men on the public road and recognized them at once as the train robbers. Evans was on foot with a gun in his hand, while Sontag followed on horseback, holding another gun and leading another horse, As they passed Evans said, "Hello Sam," recognizing the supervisor in the bright monlight. "How do you do, Chris," was the response, and the parties separated. Mr. Ellis hurried forward to a house a short distance ahead, where he stopped, left his horse and cart, and, saddling the other horse, turned back to give the alarm. He reached Visalia between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, when he reported what he had seen and heard to the sheriff. The result of this chase is waited for with keen expectation. Many think now that the robbers were actually in town yesterday evening, preposterous as it may warm. Even the time the Evans hard dor Mr. Ellis had started for his home, in that now that the robbers were actually in town yesterday evening, preposterous as it may seem. From the time the Evans barn door was heard creaking up to the appearance of the officers there was perhaps a good half hour. The men could have secured the money or done whatever they wanted and gotten away in that time. Two hours after the first alarm was given would be 11 o'clock, the very time Ellis saw them and about the time required to drive from Visalia to Stokes valley.

The fact that Mr. Ellis met them coming toward Visalia is easily explained. Chris Evans is not only a desperado, but a readywitted rascal. He, no doubt, heard some one driving up behind, dismounted, gave his horse to Sontag to lead, turned about and led the way back, not only the better to shoot down an enemy if one appeared, but also to confuse the officers should their position in the road be reported. Seeing Superviser Ellis alone he did nothing but speak, as if nothing unusual happened. When out of sight the robbers no doubt wheeled about and resumed their way further into the mountains. Knowing every road and path, this manœuvre could easily be executed. If this theory be true, and the bandits were really on the Evans place last evening, it demonstrates a command of nerve on the part of Evans and Sontag seldom witnessed, and worthy of great admiration had it been displayed in a good cause. While journeying along King's river canyon one day last week, J. S. McPhail met a man whom he thinks was Grat Dalton. The man acted suspiciously, claiming to be an officer from Inyo county on the hunt of an Indian wrongdoer. He was well dressed, rather low and heavy set, had blue eyes and a light moustache, and resembled Grat Dalton in other particulars. This goes to strengthen the supposition that Evans and Dalton have been working together. There is nothing new to night in the hunt after the train robbers and murderers. Sheriff Kay's posse is all in the field. Hopes of capturing the bandits are growing beautifully less.

THE SALMON PACK.

THE SALMON PACK.

Returns Prepared by Elmore Sanborn & Co., Astoria-Big Reduction.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 9.—Elmore, Sanborn & Co., who have compiled returns of the salmon pack at the Columbia river canneries in Astoria and along the river on both the Oregon and Washington shores, report as follows: The season which closed to-day has been remarkable for the scarcity of the Columbia and Chinook salmon. It is found from careful estimates that the 22 canneries on the Columbia river have packed 448,600 cases of all grades. The proportion of royal Chinook is 248,000 cases, the remaining 200,000 cases of engal chinook. See the case and bluebacks. As compared with last year's pack there is a decrease this season of 100,000 cases of royal Chinook. The total pack, however, exceeds that of last year by 48,000 cases. This decrease is largely due to the larger production in the canneries at Cascades and The Dalles, where a large percentage of the pack was steelheads and bluebacks. The season has been stormy, and there has been a freshet in the river all summer owing to the tardy melting of snow in the mountain ranges. The canneries have sold all their best salmon at an advance on last year's prices. follows: The season which closed to day has mon at an advance on last year's prices.
Two ships are now loading here with salmon for London and one for New York Advices from Alaska indicate that the pack Advices from Alaska indicate that the pack will be limited to one-half that of last year, as was agreed upon. In British Columbia the pack on the Fraser river is said to be a comparative failure, and the total product of that country will not exceed one-half of last year's pack.

YATES' LETTER.

Lord Salisbury's Dilemma-Gladstone and Vernon Harcourt's Pretentions -Will the Government Last?

The Irish Home Rule Question the Issue Upon Which all Depends.

Naw York, Aug. 9.—Edmund Yates' special telegram from London says: "Lord Salisbury, in addition to his public anxieties, is at present a victim to domestic wor ries. The Queen has again offered him a dukedom, which he refused in 1887, and now he again wishes to decline, but Lady Salisbury and several members of the Cecil family are most desirous that he should accept. I hear that Mr. Gladstone is announced to be in bed and forbidden to see visitors in order that he might escape the place hun in order that he might escape the place hun-ters who have been pestering him from morning till night ever since his arrival in London. His house was besieged by appli-ants for admission, and it was necessary to take excellent measures in order to escape such intolerable persecutions. The rank and file of the party came in swarms, each man pressing his own claims for office upon Mr. Gladstone, and most of these sturdy beggars wanted at least to be heads of departments if no place could be found for them in the cabinet.

Gladatone, and most of these sturdy beggars wanted at least to be heads of departments if no place could be found for them in the cabinet.

"It is a mistake to suppose that Gladstone complacently regards Sir William Harcourt as his alter ego. He has no confidence whatever in the member for Derby, and only tolerates him because he early possibly throw him over, and also because he is rather afraid of him. John Morley, now passes most of his time with Gladstone, and maintains his part of fidus achates by politely agreeing with him in everything. Gladstone's domestic circle, who urge him to persist in undertaking a task beyond the powers of a man of his age, consists of Mrs. G., his daughter, Mrs. Drew, his son Herbert, George Armstead and Stuart Rendal, who compete eagerly for the honor of lodging him and ministering to his wants, Sir Algernon West and Arnold Morely.

"How long the Gladstone government will hold together after it comes down to work, as according to present arrangements it will do at the beginning of February, no one can pretend to answer accurately at this time, but there are certain indications of the way in which things are likely to go, and these may profitably be revived. The duration of Gladstone's tenure of office depends entirely on the attitude which he takes toward home rule. If he insists upon putting the Irish question first and going steadily on with it he will be out again in a month. Of this political experts on both sides of the house have no manner of doubt. If he can mannage to shilly shally with the anti-Parnellites he will probably prove capable of throwing soup to the faddists judiciously enough to enable him enough to hold his own for perhaps three years. The very consciousness of their mutual weakness and the reciprocal regard for each other's foibles will prevent the factions from going to extremes in public. In private they are certain to worry the Liberal leader to an extent which would suffice to break down a much younger man than Gladstone."

DISTRESSFUL VENEZUELA.

Faction Fighting-Puerto Cabailo Attacked A General Famine Feared.

PANAMA, (via Galveston, Texas), August 9.—Reports from Venezuela show that complete anarchy reigns throughout the republic. Many petty leaders are collecting small armies and are fighting each other for the purpose of self advancement. There is revolution and counter-revolution, and the whole country has been put under arms. Crespo still has the largest body of troops, but his intentions and whereabouts are only approximately known. General Monagasah has returned to Caracas and is now Governor. Vilegas is nominally President, but he is vacillating and completely under the influence of the corrupt clique around him. He is almost a poor figure-head, and cannot last long in his present place. Dr. Rojas Paul is still in Caracas. Congress is unable to meet on account of the perils of travel, the impossibility of communicating wich all members, and the shifty condition of things at the capital. Puerto Cabailo was attacked on August 3 by one of the numerous armies organized by ambitious politicians. Scores were killed on the outskirts of the city, and the shops and houses were partially plunical. purpose of self advancement. There is re-were killed on the outskirts of the city, and the shops and houses were partially plun-dered. There are fears of a general famine, as prices are already enormous and tho gelds have been devastated. Meat is 75 cents to $1 a pound, bread 40 cents a loaf. The poor are unable to buy and live by theft or on charity.

BOLIVIAN REVOLUTION.

Difficulty in Arriving at the Correct Situation of Affairs.

New York, Aug. 9. - The Herald's special cablegram from its correspondent a La Paz, Bolivia, says: "A revolution was started, yesterday, at Sucre, and troops were at once sent from La Paz to suppress it. A general uprising is feared all over were at once sent from La Paz to suppress
it. A general uprising is feared all over the country. The Liberal party openly avowed its intention to oppose Presidentelect Baptiste at all odds. It is hard to get at the exact condition of affairs, owing to the embargo on telegraph lines. Arms are said to be going into Bolivian territory from Peru. The Indians are receiving supplies of fire arms and cartridges through the Argentine Republic. It is considered that General Camacho will get back into the country via Molliendo, and place himself at the head of the Liberals and wage war against the Clericals, headed by President Baptiste. El Heraldo, of Valparaiso, asks why the flag of the United States, hitherto disgraced by Egan, should be further degraded by Frank Egan flying it half-mast in honor of the death of a noted partisan of Balmaceda, named Rollas. The flag was borrowed by Frank Egan from the captain of the steamer Minola, and it was floated on Rolla's house at Ponco, near Coronel, where the Egan family had been staging for several months." several months.

VICTORIA MARKETS.

The First Instalment of New Wheat-General

The markets are picking up wonderfully after the stagnation of the last few weeks, and everything, just at present, gives promise of good business. The most encouraging reports come from the agricultural districts, and these have a telling effect upon trade generally. The tightness in the money market which was conspicuous of late, is also fast giving way, and on the whole an improvement is everywhere apparent.

WHEAT promises to be an exceptionally good crop, this year. The Brackman & Ker mills received, during the week, the first load of this season's grain, which was of excellent quality. It sold at fancy prices. The ruling figures are $40 to $45 per ton.

Potators are in good supply, but recent warm weather has done much to injure the stalks. Although in some districts the crop will be materially injured in consequence, it is generally considered fully up to the average.

ALD. HUNTER asked for an explanation as to a vote for a sewer designed to drain Major Dupont's property. He observed that the sewer in question was being laid at a depth of six feet --- and was being made of a depth of six feet—and was being made of wood. He strongly objected to this class of work, and argued that the sewer should be of brick or pipe. Box sewers were antiquated, and should not be laid.

THE SEWERAGE WORKS.

Sanitary Engineer Mohun reported as follows to the Sewerage Commissioners :— The Sewerage Commissioners:

The Sewerage Commissioners:
GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to report that the sewerage works are, as far as will permit, practically completed
During the past month the contractor has been cleaning out the sewers which are nearly ready for inspection, after which portions damaged will be replaced. The collaps of some of the pipes on Johnson street has already been reported upon, and the damage made good by the contractor.

The works referred to include street outlet main in concrete, nearly fluished; valve chamber at outlet, and 34,50 lineal feet of pipe.

chamber at outlet, and 31,439 linear feet or pipe.
The date for the completion of the contract is 31st October, 1892, and thore is but little doubt that had funds been provided to carry out the work during the summer, the whole of the area covered by Mr. McHean's contact would have been sewered before the winter set in. As soon as the sewers are in complete working order, it is proposed to make such a test as will prove their working to be satisfactory.

I have the honor to be,

3 That under the Health Act, the city's expenses, in arresting the spread of smallpox, are to be paid out of the general taxes.

Hence, if, as you say, the city is prepared to pay the expenses incurred by it "in due course," it would have paid the bills, upon presentation, out of the general taxes and ordinary revenue, instead of the bills, upon presentation, out of the general taxes and ordinary revenue, instead of the pathlet in payment of the small pox bills, so far uccurred.
